03 / METHOD / REFERENCE

Arrive with the foundations ready

A checklist for a clearer starting point, not an admission test

01 Foundations

- [ ] Explain the difference between a request and a response.
- [ ] Understand URLs, methods, headers, bodies and status codes.
- [ ] Understand accounts, sessions, authentication and authorization.
- [ ] Intercept a request with Burp Suite in a training environment.
- [ ] Navigate files and folders and run a simple terminal command.

02 Setup

- [ ] Computer, charger and stable internet.
- [ ] Burp Suite and a testing browser ready.
- [ ] Working Discord access and clear audio.
- [ ] Space for notes, recordings and training files when needed.
- [ ] Screen sharing tested before the first session.
- [ ] Read RVU Commerce setup instructions in its repository and follow the version used in the camp.

03 / REVIEW / NEXT STEPS

Plan your time and document attempts

A checklist for a clearer starting point, not an admission test

03 Time

- [ ] Review the Monday and Thursday schedule: 7:30-10:30 PM, Cairo time.
- [ ] Set aside 5-7 practice hours weekly, in addition to live sessions.
- [ ] Collect questions for the private review every two weeks.

04 Document an attempt

Record: What did I expect? What did I change? What actually happened? What evidence supports it? What remains unclear? What should I try next?

05 Before the interview

Prepare a short description of your level, one attempt where you got stuck, your goal and your available time. The purpose is to understand your starting point, not memorize answers.

03 / PRACTICE / WORKSHEET

Your first-week plan

A checklist for a clearer starting point, not an admission test

My starting point

What I understand and have tried myself

What I need to prepare

A missing tool or foundation and one practical step

Practice time I can protect

Day	Time	Practice / review

An attempt I can discuss

Expectation / controlled change / result / evidence

A question I need help with

My next step

Document each attempt

What did I expect? What did I change? What happened? What is the evidence? What remains unclear? What should I try next?
